WORST FEARS FOR MINISTERS.

NOTHING YET HEARD FROM THEM.

Chinese Embassy at London Thinks They May be Going by a Circuitous Route to Tien-Tsin--Capt. McCalla Saved Seymour's Expedition From Starving—The Administration Decides That War Exists.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Shanghai, June 29.—The worst is now feared for the foreign ministers. The prisoners captured by Seymour's column say that they were murdered and that the legations were sacked. Others say that they are prisoners. An imperial decree just issued here declares that the imperial palace a Pekin was burned by revolting Chinese troops on the 16th inst. This adds to the fear for the safety of the ministers. Prince Tuan has probably seized the reins of government for the Empress, and is the head of the Boxers. The Boxers may thus have completed their control of the Pekin government.

SEYMOUR IN TIEN-TSIN.

Washington, June 29.—Admiral Kempff cables: "The Pekin relief expedition is now at Tien-Tsin, with 206 wounded. The ministers and the Pekin party are not with them, and there is no news of them."

It is feared here that the ministers are held as hostages or been slaughtered. The administration now realizes that actual war exists. The question of handing the Chinese minister his passports is being discussed at the cabinet meeting today.

DISTURBER LOSES HIS HEAD.

Paris, June 29 —The Viceroy cables the foreign office that he has decapitated the instigator of the anti-foreign riots. He says the French consul is safe.

MAY HAVE GONE ANOTHER ROUTE.

London, June 29.—Nothing is yet known of the foreign ministers to China. It is believed here that the report from Shanghai that the legations were safe June 25th was based solely upon the imperial decree of that day. More weight is attached to the statement by the Chinese embassy here that it had reason to believe that passports were given the ministers June 19th, and that they left Pekin that date. It is hoped that they are on the way to Tien-Tsin by a round-about route in order to avoid the mobs they knew would oppose Seymour's advance.

CAPT. McCALLA HELPED 'EM OUT.

New York, June 29.—The World prints a special from the cruiser Newark at Cheefoo, which says that it is due Capt. McCalla of the Newark, who was in command of 150 marines with Seymour, that the relief force was able to reach Tien-Tsin. On landing Capt McCalla took two weeks supply of provisions, while the others took only five days rations. When the rations of the others were exhausted, Capt McCalla distributed supplies among the allies and actually saved them from starvation.

STORY OF SEYMOUR'S STRUGGLE.

London, June 29, 4 a. m.—The casualities of the international force attacking Tien-Tsin were: Americans, killed 3, wounded 2; British, killed 2, wounded 1; Germans, killed 15, wounded 27; Russians, killed 10, wounded 27. The gun fire of the Americans and British is described as "beautiful."

After the relieving force pushed on to relieve Admiral Seymour, Chinese regulars under General Nieh, says a dispatch from Shanghai, again attacked Tien-Tsin and bombarded the foreign settlement with a terrible fire.

Colonel Dorwood, British, commanded the column that relieved Admiral Seymour. American marines participated in the achievement. The admiral was found entrenched and surrounded by immense masses of Chinese, who were driven off by the relieving force after a brisk fight. His men had made a brilliant resistance, never failing in courage for 15 days of continuous fighting. During ten days the men were on quarter rations. They started with provisions for ten days, and they could have held out a day or two longer.

The column was a few miles beyond Lofa. Deeming it hopeless to attempt to break through the hordes, Admiral Seymour essayed a night retreat toward Tied-Tsin, but he came into collision with a strong force of Chinese arriving from the northwest, and could neither advance nor retreat. There was nothing to do but to intrench and to stand seige. He vainly attempted heliographic communication.

Seymour's men caught several Chinese, who said the legations had been burned and the ministers had been imprisioned.

The Chinese displayed fanatical courage in the attack. Four thousand Russians left Tien-Tsin four days after Admiral Seymour, but they never got in touch with them.

Railroad communication between Taku and Tien-Tsin has been restored, and the force is advancing toward Pekin. Fighting was in progress Wednesday in the vicinity of Tsechulin. Large preparations are being made to support and re-enforce the Pekin relieving column. Twenty thousand troops of all arms, largely Japanese, have now been landed.

THE SITUATION YESTERDAY.

Washington, June 28.—The day's developments in Chinese affairs were meagre, and the general opinion here is that the two messages received—one from Kempff and the other from Li Hung Chang—could not be accepted as to the fate of the foreingn ministers at Pekin, and their families and attaches.

The secretary of the Navy, by special instruction of the President, had been particular to cable Admiral Kempff several days ago to keep the Navy Department informed of everything that happens within the zone of disturbance in China, and it is believed that his omission to make any reference in his cablegram of this morning to the whereabouts of the ministers was based on the absence of any information on that subject at Taku, where the admiral is with his flagship, Newark, and if no information could be had at Taku, only 30 miles down the river from Tien-Tsin, of the presence of the ministers in Admiral Seymour's column, but eight miles distant, the officials here cannot understand how any government could have superior facilities, and so they felt justified in waiting for further advices before accepting the Chinese statements on that point as accurate.

EAGLES SCORE A SUCCESS.

The Junior Reel Team Promises to Again Win the Championship.

The Eagle Juniors scored a success at their lawn party last night. It was well patronized, as it deserved to be, and the boys are now confident of going to Wilmington and again winning the championship. The members of the reel team are grateful for the liberal patronage of the public and express their thanks in the following card:

"The Eagle Juniors wish to thank their friends who were so kind as to make their lawn party a success last night. They especially thank the ladies and the members of the Gate City Band, who, by their presence, added much to the pleasure of the evening. They are also very grateful to the daily papers, the Southern Railway and the furniture men of the city."

The only Democratic canvasser in the State against the amendment has been D. M. Luther, Esq., of the Asheville bar. He thought that the amendment, as originally submitted, might, if adopted, disfranchise some white men, and thus he conceived it to be his duty to take the stump against it. This he did, making a number of speeches. The Legislature having, however, at its adjourned session, consolidated the fourth and fifth sections removing all possible danger. Mr. Luther is out in an argument in the Asheville Citizen in favor of the amendment. His change of position does him credit and his argument is one which can be read with profit.—Charlotte Observer.

Guessing Contest Still Open.

It was stated that the census guessing would be closed at noon today. This time was set because it was thought that the official announcement would be made by this time. It has not been made and the contest will be continued till the announcement is made.

A large number of guesses have been made, and they are interesting. Send yours in.

Democratic Convention.

The Democratic County Convention of Guilford county will meet to-morrow, Saturday, June 30th, at 11 o'clock, at the Banner Warehouse, instead of the Court House. This change is made in order that there may be room for all. By order of the Central Executive Committee.

Z. V. TAYLOR, Sec'y. A. M. SCALES, Chairman.

Convention in the Banner Warehouse.

In order to accommodate the large crowd that will undoubtedly attend, it has been decided to hold the Democratic County Convention tomorrow, in the Banner Warehonse instead of the courth house. A sufficient number of seats will be provided.

The Convention will be called to order at 11 o'clock.

The exposures regarding the hospitals in South Africa have made a great sensation in England. They began with three columns of restrained language in the Times recently from W. A. Burdette-Coutts. His disclosures have been widely circulated and they are supplemented with denunciatory telegrams and interviews from survivors and army medical men.

WILL BUILD AN ADDITION.

The Growing Business of Will H. Matthews & Co. Forces Them to Enlarge Their Store.

In order to accommodate their growing business, Will H. Matthews & Co. have arranged for the construction of a two-story addition to the rear of their clothing store. The addition will be 36 feet in length, giving the store a depth of 136 feet. This will make one of the largest and handsomest stores in North Carolina.

The work will be commenced assoon as the stock can be sufficiently reduced to make room for the carpenters In order to do this quickly, Messrs. Matthews & Co. have decided to inaugurate a reduction sale for thirty days, during which time goods will be sold at such prices as will move them. The public is well acquainted with the firm's policy of one price, and for cash only, which is sufficient assurance that the sale will be bona fide. Everything is marked in plain figures and the customer can see for himself just what reduction he is getting.

Will H. Matthews & Co. embarked in business April 1st, 1899, fifteen months ago. At that time the store met every demand of their business, but their honorable and fair business methods have built up such a large patronage that they now find themselves cramped for room. It is thought the addition, which will be completed in ample time for the fall trade, will provide sufficient room.

Proper Baking.

The delicacy of pastry depends as much upon the baking as the making, therefore strict attention should be paid to the following directions:

Puff paste requires a quick oven heat; a hot oven would curl the paste and scorch it.

Tart paste or short paste requires a degree less of heat. For raised or light crust the oven may be heated as for puff paste.

GREENSBORO GOING FORWARD.

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAID LAST NIGHT

The Past Year Has Been One of Unprecedented Growth and Development—Verified Reports Show a Most Satisfactory Condition of Affairs---Merchants, Manufacturers and Other Business Men Testify to Their Increased Business—Mechanics Have Had Steadier Employment Than Before---Encouraging Report of Bank Deposits and Postoffice Receipts---Last Night's Meeting Expressed Itself in a Strong Resolution.

In response to a call issued last Saturday by the executive committee of the Industrial and Immigration Association, a large number of interested citizens assembled in the court house last night to discuss the question as to whether the dispensary has been a detriment to the business of the city. The court house was packed, showing the interest people generally feel in this matter and their readiness to give expression to the same. While people holding different views were present, the proceedings were marked by a spirit of friendliness and fairness, and nothing was said or done to create discord or wound the feelings of anyone. While enthusiasm prevailed, no one evinced the slightest inclination to exult over the fact of being in the position of a majority so large as to make it practically unanimous.

In the absence of the president of the Industrial and Immigration Association, the meeting was called to order by Mr. J. N. Wills, a member of the executive committee, who read the call issued by the committee. He stated that during the day considerable sentiment in favor of calling off or postponing the meeting had developed, but the president did not feel justified in taking any action without the unanimous consent of the executive committee, which had not been obtained. Mr. Wills further stated that, while the published notice postponing the meeting represented the sentiment of a number of gentlemen on both sides of the question, it was not official.

Prof. J. Y. Joyner was elected permanent chairman of the meeting, with member of the press present as secretaries. In taking the chair Prof. Joyner expressed the hope that the meeting would be characterized by a spirit of fairness and courtesy to all.

When the meeting was declared open for business Mr. R. R. King made a few well tempered remarks in defining his position on the dispensary question and in explanation of why it had been thought best by some to postpone the meeting. Mr. King stated that while he opposed the establishment of the dispensary, since the law had been passed and put into operation he had not attempted to cause trouble or influence sentiment against the dispensary. He also stated that in voting both as a member and chairman of the executive committee of the Industrial and Immigration Association, when the question of calling the meeting was before that body, Mr. J. W. Fry had done what he considered right under the circumstances. Mr. King said a number of gentlemen on both sides of the dispensary question, after consultation, had thought it best to postpone the meeting. He read a paper they adopted yesterday afternoon stating that "in the interest of harmony and for the good of the Democratic party, and in view of the fact that the county convention is to be held on next Saturday, at which time it is hoped the object of the meeting can be better attained, the public meeting called for tonight at the court house has been postponed."

The chair asked for the will of the meeting, and, motion to adjourn was made and seconded. Before the motion to adjourn was put it was stated that, if those who wished discussion postponed would give assurance that the matter would not come up in the county convention, there would probably be no objection to adjourn. No assurance was given and the motion to adjourn was lost.

Mr. John N. Wilson stated that he thought it best had the meeting not been called, but since the call had been made and it had been published to the world that the dispensary had injured the business of Greensboro to such an extent that it had become necessary for the business men to come together for the purpose of discussing its effects, he was in favor of having the discussion, as asked for in the call and the petition upon which the call was made. He was sure the business men did not want it to go out all over North Carolina that the business of Greensboro had been injured during the past year; they did not want it advertised to the commercial world that, instead of moving forward and progressing, business had gone backward and stagnated. In order that what the business men of Greensboro have said on the question, he asked that some facts and figures be laid before the meeting, and that the true condition of affairs might be placed before the world, he introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, By this convention of citizens of Greensboro, called together by the Industrial and Immigration Association, at the request of Mr. Moses H. Cone and others, to discuss whether or not the dispensary has been a detriment to the business of the city, that, after hearing the evidence, it is of the opinion that the evidence overwhelmingly establishes as a fact that the dispensary has not in the least been a detriment to the business of the city; but on the contrary that the business of the city has been better during the last year than ever before in its history.

The chair declared the question open for discussion, when the following signed statements were read:

I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

THE SMALLPOX OF LAST YEAR.

NEARLY THREE THOUSAND CASES.

The Cause Was Mainly Mistakes in Diagnosis—771 White Supremacy Clubs Have Been Organized up Till Monday, to be Followed by 212 This Week—Charles R. Thomas Renominated — Special Master Finds in Favor of the Commission—Gov. Russell Will Not Vote on the Amendment.

Special Correspondence of the Telegram.

Raleigh, June 29.—As was expected, Charles R. Thomas was yesterday renominated for Congress for the Third district by the Democrats.

Raleigh's team continues to do well in the baseball line, having won three out of four games.

Special Master Eugene S. Martin, has filed here in the United States Circuit Court Clerk's office, his report and finding in the investigation of the mint to prevent the Corporation Commission from making ten tons a minimun car load of fertilizer on the Carolina Central railway. He finds in favor of the Commission.

It is learned here from good sources that Governor Russell will not register or vote on the amendment. His inclinations are not against it, but he thinks it would be construed to be ingratitude to people who have in years past supported him, if he voted for the amendment.

The State has requisitions at the War Department for shelter tents for one regiment. These will, this year, be used by the First regiment, which will take a practice march, a far better mode of instruction than a mere encampment. Practical work in the field is what the volunteers need. When the government takes charge of them (it now entirely arms and equips them) pays and rations them it will will get the real actual work done.

The corporation commission has devoted the past two days to a careful studying the railway statistics and returns before it makes this year's assessment.

Up to last Monday no fewer than 771 white supremacy clubs had been organized in this state and arrangemants are made for organizing 222 more this week. All the county chairmen now see the great benefit of the clubs and are in every way promoting and aiding in their formation.

The smallpox report for the year ended April 30 shows the astounding total of 2,806 cases in the State! During the previous fifteen months there were only 616. The disease thus increased nearly five-fold. Guilford and Rockingham made a bad showing—the former with 509 cases and 9 deaths, the latter with 520 cases and 20 deaths. The trouble is due mainly to mistakes in diognosis and insistance that the disease is chicken pox. This is more than folly; it is almost criminal carelessness. It must be borne in mind that North Carolin is ripe for the disease, as 90 per cent. of the population is now unvaccinated. Look out for an outbreak next autumn which will lay even last year in the shade.

BETTER THAN DURING THE PRECEDING YEAR.

We, the undersigned merchants and business men of Greensboro respectfully state that our business for the past twelve months has been better than it was during the preceding twelve months.

W. L. Wharton & Co., who have not been in business for two years, stated that since engaging in business it had steadily increased and prospered.

It was stated that a number firms were seen that had not the figures at hand to tell to what extent business had increased, but in no instance was the statement made that business had been worse during the preceding twelve months.

DISPENSARY HAS IMPROVED BUSINESS.

The following self-explanatory letter was read:

Greensboro, N. C., June 27, 1900.
To whom It May Concern:

We take pleasure in stating that our business has been constantly improving and increasing during the past twelve months. We have noticed that the dispensary has had a good effect upon our collections from certain customers who formerly spent their money in the barrooms, but who now meet their payments with promptness. We observed the change for the better within sixty days after the dispensary was opened.

BLOXTON & JENNINGS,
BY G. H. JENNINGS.

PREFERS A DISPENSARY TOWN.

Mr. C. E. Harrison, the State agent for the Deering Harvester Company, has a very good opinion of the advantages of a dispensary town. He was unable to attend the meeting, but sent the following letter to be read:

Greensboro, N. C., June 27, 1900.

This is to state that when I moved to this State from Tennessee I was undecided whether to make my residence in Charlotte or Greensboro, and that after visiting both towns, I located in Greensboro in preference to Charlotte, because Greensboro had a dispensary instead of a dozen or more saloons, as I found in Charlotte. I have a famity of children growing up and the dispensary does not present the temptations which accompany the saloons.

C. E. HARRISON,
State Agt. for Deering Harvester Co.

FREIGHT RECEIPTS, BANK DEPOSITS ETC

Mr. A. W. McAllister said the testimonials that had been read should settle conclusively the question as to whether business in Greensboro is improving, but he wished to submit some additional testimony in the shape of increased freight business, postoffice receipts and bank deposits. He read an interview with Mr. W. E. Coffin, the Southern Railway Company's agent at this place, published in the Telegram Wednesday, stating that during the past year the amount of freight shipped to Greensboro concerns had constantly increased.

The following statements of the receipts at the Greensboro postoffice from July 1st, 1898, to July 1st, 1899, as compared with the year from July 1st, 1899, to July 1st, 1900, was furnished by postoffice authorities:

	1898-'99.	1899-'00
July	$ 1,709 58	$ 2,320 46
August	2,215 51	2,090 09

Totals	$26,426 70	$29,401 54
		26,426 70

A comparative statement of the condition of the banks of Greensboro in April, 1899, as compared with April, 1900, was read as follows, the figures being taken from the official published bank statements:

DEPOSITS IN	1899	1900
Greensboro National Bank	$413,067 77	$ 386,718 37
City National Bank	215,845 00	319,050 00

Total Deposits.	$810,471 46	$1,106,968 78
		810,471 46
Increase		$296,497 32

The showing made in the various lines by business was even brighter than had been expected and was a source of great pleasure to the audience. The statements and figures quoted tell most eloquently the story of Greensboro's commercial and industrial growth.

On motion the resolution introduced by Mr. John N. Wilson was unanimously adopted, after which the enthusiastic meeting adjourned.

CANCER IS NOT INCURABLE

Time was when Cancer was considered as incurable as leprosy. Physicians and friends could give little relief or encouragement to one afflicted with this terrible disease. Even now doctors know of no remedy for this fearful malady; while admitting it to be a blood disease, they still insist that there is no hope outside of a surgical operation, and advise you to have the Cancer cut out, but at the same time cannot assure you that it will not return. You may cut or draw out the sore, but another will come in its place, for the disease is in the blood—is deep-seated and destructive, and beyond the reach of the surgeon's knife or caustic, flesh-destroying plasters. The blood must be purified and strengthened, the system relieved of all poisonous, effete matter before the Cancer sore will heal.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can overcome this powerful and contaminating poison and force it out of the blood. It builds up and invigorates the old, and supplies new, rich, life-giving blood. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy; no mineral can be found in it; the roots and herbs from which it is made contain powerful purifying properties that act directly upon the blood system and make a safe and permanent cure of Cancer. It has cured thousands, why not you?

Cancer is not always inherited; your family may be free from any taint, yet your blood may become so polluted that a severe and stubborn form of the disease may develop from a sore or ulcer on your tongue or other part of your body; a slight bruise or hurt, a little pimple on the eyelid, lip or nose, a small lump on the jaw or breast, a harmless looking wart or mole, and other causes so insignificant as to attract little or no attention. If you have an obstinate sore, don't rely upon salves or ointments to cure it—begin with S. S. S. at once; it will cleanse your blood and prevent the formation of cancerous cells.

Impure Blood Invites Disease.

Mrs. R. Shirer, La Plata, Mo., writes: "A small pimple came on my jaw about one inch below the ear on the left side of my face. At first it gave me no trouble, and I did not think it was anything serious until the jaw began to swell and became much inflamed. At the same time the sore began to spread and eat into the flesh, and gave me intense pain. I tried everything I could hear of, but nothing did me any good. I then began the use of S. S. S., and after taking several bottles the Cancer healed, and there is now no sign of the disease. This was two years ago, and I am still enjoying perfect health."

Send for our special book on Cancer; it contains much information that will interest you; it is free.

Write our physicians about your case, and for any advice or information wanted; they have made a life study of Cancer and all blood diseases. We make no charge whatever for this.

FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1900.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT.

On last Saturday the Executive Committee of the Industrial and Immigration Association, at the solicitation of gentlemen opposed to the dispensary in this city, and on the petition of citizens asking for such a meeting, called the citizens of Greensboro to meet in the courthouse last night for the purpose of discussing the specific question as to whether or not the business of this town had been injured by the substitution of a dispensary for saloons. The Telegram has purposely refrained from saying anything about this meeting or in any way to carry on the agitation during the week, because it desired to see the people of the town come together quietly, dispassionately, and without agitation, and say in this meeting what the majority believed to be the truth. It was seriously published to the world that business had been injured, and the impression made on the outside public that unless something was done Greensboro was on the way to serious business disaster.

That meeting assembled last night—not a few individuals, but the court house full—and the statements made and the resolutions passed showed amply what it thought of the proposition. We invite the most careful scrutiny of these statements, and declare that if they do not represent the people and business of this town, and if the subjects selected for investigation, embracing as they do every line engaged in, and lines, too, that are always and every where taken as the very pulse of business, then there is no possible way to ascertain the state of business of a community, and no possible way to gage public sentiment and opinion.

But no doubt the advocates of saloons will try to make capital out of the statement made in the meeting by Mr. R. R. King, that the meeting was "called off." The meeting was not "called off" by the organization that called it, the only ones having authority to do so, and hence was not called off at all. Even Mr. King's "call off" was not done till late yesterday afternoon, after one of the afternoon papers had gone to press, and the "call off" appeared in the other paper signed by nobody, hence appearing upon the authority nobody. Even those who were fortunate to see it did not understand it. There is not a man in Greensboro who does not know as well as he knows the difference between black and white, that the people who were instrumental in calling that meeting, worked this "call off" business only after they found that public sentiment was against them, and they absolutely knew that the meeting would overwhelmingly pass such resolutions as were passed. In other words, the promoters of the meeting wanted it as long as they supposed they had a majority, but when it became evident that the people of the town could not be made to say what the promoters wanted them to say, then they wanted a "call off." They professed to want to count noses until the noses got in line and they glanced down the row, so to speak, when they suddenly found out that they were not ready to count.

The first thing that has been dinged into a stranger's ears when he reaches Greensboro is that the majority of the people of the town are opposed to the dispensary and that it was fastened upon them by some mysterious, unknown and powerful ring. When that was supposed to be thoroughly lodged in the stranger's head, the next information imparted to him as an inducement for new settlers, was that the town was being eternally and everlastingly ruined and that the business houses here would no doubt soon be roosting places for owls, unless the dispensary was removed at once. As to these choice allegations, it has been shown by primary, by election, by mass meetings, by signatures and otherwise, that a majority of the people of this town favor the dispensary and want to see it remain. As to the second charge, the comparative statement of the banks, the railroad, the postoffice, merchants and manufacturers, published in this paper today, amply proves it a mistake. Far from business having been injured, it has shown a remorkable steady and healthy increase.

The Telegram has deplored any agitation of this matter; it has been constantly attacked by the organ of the saloons, without replying to it; it has never said a word except when compelled to; in an an editorial as strong as it could write it pleaded with the agitators to cease their work in the face of the pending election. This, too, has been the position of the supporters of the dispensary. They have deplored agitation and took it up only when it was forced upon them by some new scheme or effort of their opponents. Then they have shown their position, defeated those seeking to again open saloons, and then quietly retired till another fight was forced upon them. We do not desire to be unkind, and we have written the foregoing only because we felt it necessary to do so to correct the wrong impressions that have been sent out to the injury of the town. It does seem to us now that the movers in this work ought to stop their efforts. The people have beaten them in every move they made, the majoriy has continually shown that it wants the dispensary, and it is time now, for the minority to acquiesce in the rule of the majority, and stop this agitation. We again beg that this be done. If it is not the public knows beyond the shadow of a doubt who is responsible for it.

Never Thought of It.

One day, as Jock Samson was at work in the harvest field, he was busy on the top of his cart loading the sheaves, and the farmer was below pitching.

All at once Jock wondered why no sheaves were being delivered to him, and hearing sounds of puffing and blowing, he looked over the side of the cart, and saw the old farmer vainly trying to lift the wheel off a sheaf of corn.

The perspiration was streaming down his face, and hearing Jock laughing above him, he looked up and cried:—

"What are you laughing at? Come doon and gie's a lift!"

"Losh, man," says Jock, "can ye no move forrit the horse?"

"Losh me!" cried the farmer, throwing down his hat on the ground in astonishment at his own stupidity, "I never had a thocht o' that!"—Pearson's Weekly.

A New Excuse.

"Henry, this is scandalous."

"What's the matter, m' dear?"

"Oh, there's no use talking to you. Don't you know you're in a dreadful condition?"

"Who said s-so, m' dear,"

"I say so. Why, you won't be able to get your hat on to-morrow."

"An' do you know why, m' dear?"

"Yes, I know why."

"Th-then you know about kissin' bug?"

"Kissing bug! What about the kissing bug?"

"Kissin' bug bit me on th' brow, an' poor ol' head's swelled twice its nashral size. Look at it, m' dear."

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. Killing Cattle.

Cattle are most readily and conveniently destroyed by blows on the head with a heavy ax or hammer, followed by immediate blood-letting. The animal which is to be killed should be secured by means of a rope passed round the horns and fastened to a post, or to a ring in the floor, and held or made fast by an assistant. The animal being blindfolded, the operator, armed with a heavy axe or hammer, stands at the side and a little in front of it, and aims his blow at a spot in the middle of a line drawn across the forehead about 1½ in below the base of the horns, or, perhaps better, at a spot where two diagonal lines intersect, drawn from the eyes to the base of the horns. In most cases, if the blow is heavy and properly directed, the animal falls instantly; but it is better even then to repeat the blow and to follow it by immediate bleeding. This is accomplished either by drawing back the head, and cutting deeply across the neck at the upper portion of the windpipe, severing all the blood vessels, or by plunging a long and sharp-pointed knife into the heart and large bloodvessels at a point corresponding to the upper portion of the brisket, and just above the breast bone.

Poultry Notes.

One of the best ways of giving salt to poultry s to mix it with the soft food supplied to them. Season it the same as you would food prepared for the table and this is all that will be necessary. Some salt is essential to the best health but too much is detrimental.

When a specialty is being made of raising fowls for market, whether to sell as broilers or as more matured fowls, it will, in nearly all cases, pay to select some one of the larger breeds like Brahmas, Cochins, or Langshans. One advantage with the Langshans is that they are good winter layers and good mothers.

Keep your nesting and scratching material and your bathing dust perfectly dry. Supply fresh material as soon as needed. Have the dust box wide and deep enough.

Pepper is a good thing for laying hens if fed judiciously; too much will result in harm.

HUMOR OF THE DAY.

Georgie Tells How Pa Spent a Day on the Farm.

Me and the pupp and maw and paw and little albert went out in the country a Satardy to Visit unkle Henry's. Unkle henry is maw's bruther and wunst him and Her was little boys and gurls like me and little albert and Unkle Henry Sed maw Yoost to Run around in Her Bair feet and Clime trees and Fall out of the Hay in the Barn and skin the Cat jist like a Boy. I'm offel sorry I Herd that about maw Becos I Can't hardly keep on Thinkin She's a nangel enny more. I Wisht She would of Bin a nice little gurl With Dimpuls in Her Cheeks and Curls Down her back and always kept Her Dress Clean and Didn't never make snoots ot peeple. Sumtimes when I think about it I almost Haft to Weap.

Before we went paw He was tellin us all about the grate things he ust to Do when He lived on a Farm. It's a wonder peeple Didn't come from miles around to See paw.

So when we Got out paw He thot He would Sho us how to milk a cow and Unkle Henry Give him a pale and a Stool with only One Laig what paw had to Ballunce himself on.

They was a nice Sad looken cow what was all Black with a White Stripe around Whare Wimmin Waire thare corset and Unkle Henry told paw she was as Gentle as a lam, so paw took off his cote and cuffs and let maw Hold them and pulled up His Sleaves and Set Down on the Stool with one laig and Held the pale Between His nees and Grabbed Hold with Both Hands.

The furst stream shot out whare paw wasent lookin fer it and went all over His Best pants and maw she Begin to jaw and Told him he couldn't afford to Go and rooin His close jist to sho off.

"Oh, Don't make a Fuss about nothin," paw says. "That won't hurt. You can take it out with a little gas a lean. You Couldn't expect a person what was all out of practus to Set rite Down and do this as good as if He was Keepin at it Every Day. But I'll Be all rite in a minute or two."

About that time the cow wanted to nock a fly off Her side, so she switched around and got her tale mixed up with paw's mustash and paw He had to spit as Hard as he Could fer quite a while, and he fergot to milk.

Then he begun agin and His hand Slipt and the Stream Hit maw jist below the Ear and run down inside of her coller. Maw she yelled and Dropt pew's cuffs, and the pupp thot it was the Cow's folt so he made a Grab at her heels and the Cow Stept on paw's foot and the stool with one laig went over Backwards and the milk what paw happened to Git in the pale run under His vest when He was layin thare with his feet in the air and a Look on his fais what made me Think of the Dying gladdyator in the pickture.

"Oh, paw," maw hollered, "why was you sich a fool as to try it?"

"Git away from me," paw sed when maw wanted to help Him to Git up. "If it haden't of Bin fer you this wouden't of Hapened. If you would have stayed in the House Where wimmin belong they wouldent of Been no trubble."

By that Time he was on his feat So the pupp was Lookin up in His fais and wagin His tale kind of pleasant and paw Hauld off and Give a Kick at Him. But the pupp wasent thare when paw's foot Reached the place and the Straw He was standin an was purty slippery.

I don't know whether the damage to paw's pants or His shoalder Blaids was the most turrable.

Ennyway he was a nofful lookin site when we got Him to the House and maw Had to almost Weap every time She looked at His pants. He only wore them wunst before. So he had to Go to Bed whilst maw was tryin to Git the milk off and sow them so the laigs would stay together. I poked my Hed in the Room whare he was laying reedin the Bible to pass away the Time and Says:

"Paw."

"What?" paw ast.

"I Bet I no How you can git richer than if you Discovered a Gold mine."

"How?" he says.

"By Bildin a Fence around Yourself and Chargin folks to Git in Every time you try to do ennything."

I could tell by what he said that it was lucky paw Couldent come outside. —Georgie, in Chicago Times-Herald.

Seawell Sues the Seaboard.

Shelby Aurora.

A. F. Seawell, who was egged by some boys here several weeks ago as he was boarding the Seaboard passenger train, has brought suit against the railroad company for damages. The summo ns was received by Sheriff Suttle and immediately served on Agent Walter Ramseur, of the Seaboard. The summoms is returnable to the August term of Moore county Superior court, the home of Seawell. We understand that the amount required to soothe the lacerated feelings of Mr. Seawell is $50,000. From what can be learned he bases his suit for damages on the ground that being a passenger of the defendant company, and the law recognizing its agents as police officers, he was entitled to protection at their hands. We learned also that Seawell and his friends are trying to connect the local agent, Mr. Ramseur, with the episode as aiding and abetting the boys who threw the eggs. To this Ramseur enters an indignant denial.

What is a Furlough?

Pearson's Weekly.

"What is a furlough?" asked a teacher.

"It means a horse," was the reply of Mary.

"Oh, no, " replied the teacher. "It doesn't mean a horse "

"Indeed, it does," said Mary. "I have a book at home that says so."

"Well," said the teacher, now thoroughly interested, "you may bring the book to school, and we'll see about it."

The next day Mary brought the book, and in some triumph opened to a page where there was a picture of a soldier riding a horse. Below the picture were the words: "Going home on his furlough."

HER FIRST PATIENT

It was a proud day for Martha Evans when, after four years' hard work in a celebrated medical school, she returned to her native city, rented and furnished a tiny office on the main street, hung a gilt sign in the window and sat down to await a call from some afflicted one.

Dr. Evans spent the first three days in arranging and rearranging the little office into which she had gathered numerous tokens of love received from friends and admirers.

On the morning of the fourth day, just as she was entering the office door, a loud ring at the telephone made her heart leap with expectation. She fairly ran to the instrument and received this message:

"Please call at once, at the residence of Mrs. Greengo. Mr. Gerengo is ill."

The Greengo residence was only a few blocks distant, but the short walk gave Martha time to compose herself, and when old Mrs. Greengo greeted her the youthful physician was as quiet and dignified as if life was an old story.

"You ermember me, don't you, my dear?" asked Mrs. Greengo, extending her hand, and Martha replied:

"To be sure I do; but who is Mr. Greengo? I thought you were a widow."

"I am a widow, my dear. Mr. Greengo is my nephew, a very brilliant young lawyer, but somewhat given to melancholy. He seemed well enough when he came down this morning, but a few minutes ago became ill and asked me to call you."

So saying the old lady led the way into the sitting-room, where Mr. Greengo, clad in dressing-gown and slippers and with eyes closed, lay stretched at full length on a great couch before the fireplace. "Here is the doctor, Paul, my dear," announced Mrs. Greengo, and then seated her on the couch at his feet.

The man on the couch moved his head slightly, but made no other sign of having heard.

Martha's quick eye noted the giant frame, the long black hair, and the large, strong mouth as she drew a chair to his side, and, laying her tiny fingers on his wrist, asked in gentle tones:

"What is the trouble, Mr. Greengo. Where are you ill?"

The patient opened a pair of large, melancholy brown eyes, looked her squarely in the face, and, laying his hand over his breast said: "For a long long time I have had a strangely numb empty feeling right here. And a pain—not an ache—but such a pain as I used to have in childhood when my mother had punished me. I feel like weeping sometimes, and, lately on several occasions, my heart has palpitated so wildly that it made me faint and ill."

Martha's cheeks flushed lightly.

She took two strange looking instruments from her grip and proceeded to give Mr. Greengo's heart and lungs a thorough examination. When it was completed she replaced the instruments and, seating herself beside the couch, she said, quietly:

"Mr. Greengo, I fail to find the least symptom of disease about you. I think you have overtaxed your nervous system a little and need some rest and recreation. If you will spend a month in amusing yourself, mostly in outdoor exercise, and will leave work and books and business entirely out of the programme, I will give you a little tonic, and a promise that you will feel as sound as ever before the month is out."

Two days later, as Dr. Evans sat before her own cozy grate fire reading the morning paper, the office door opened and Greengo entered.

"I have been doing just as you told me, doctor," he said, "and I am feeling much worse. I want to tell you that I feel horrible when I am alone and I believe I need cheerful company. I wonder if you cannot arrange your work so as to drive with me for an hour or so every morning?"

And so it came about that they drove together and little Dr. Evans amused her big patient with merry conversation, and he began at once to mend.

One morning in June Paul entered the little office on Main street with a curious twinkle in his eyes.

"Doctor," he said, "I wish you would listen to my heart this morning."

Martha looked alarmed and immediately arose and laid her ear against the broad chest.

"Do you not hear a strange sound there, doctor?" he asked.

"No, I do not, Mr. Greengo," she replied.

She moved away, but he drew her to him.

"Something is wrong with your ear, Martha," he said "for I hear it playing a little song in my heart that says ever: 'I love you, I love you, I love you.'"

"Paul Greengo!" cried Martha, drawing herself from his embrace and looking angrily into his soft eyes, "have you been fooling me all this time?"

"No, darling," he replied. "I have had all the symptoms I told you of. The burning emptiness and pain came into my heart the morning I saw you place that little gilt sign in the window. After that, every time I saw you or heard your name or even thought of you my heart would leap into my throat and there palpitate so wildly I could hardly breathe. Don't give me any more pills or prescriptions, dear, but give me your own sweet self and I will be well and happy for life.

Paul is Martha's only patient now and she declares she has all she can attend to.—Condensed from Chicago News.

Animals and Man.

From my own observation, says a well known naturalist, and from comparing notes with other naturalists and hunters, I am of the opinion that all wild animals learn to dread man only when they find him to be an enemy bent on their destruction. As long as he comes and goes without disturbing them—unless they regard him as their natural prey—they care as little for his presence as they do for that of other animals that have no motive for injuring them.

Birds, for example, that have learned to dread man's destructive gun have no fear of a horse, the cow or the sheep. When a farmer sees perched on the limb of a tree, a hawk, which he knows is planning a visit to his hen yard, he mounts his horse, and with gun in hand, rides within easy shooting range of the hawk. The bird cannot at that distance separate the hostile man from the harmless horse.

Unless food is digested quickly it will ferment and irritate the stomach. After each meal take a teaspoonful of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and will allow you to eat all you need of what you like. It never fails to cure the worst cases of dyspepsia. It is pleasant to take. Howard Gardner.

Various Kinds of Caterpillars and How to Fight Them.

There are caterpillars and caterpillars. It may be well to distinguish between them to some extent. The one which seems to be making the most mischief in the country just now is the Clissiocampa Disstria or forest-tree tent caterpillar. All caterpillars go through the same general series of experiences. They are hatched from eggs, develop into caterpillars, eat ravenously the leaves of the trees in whose shade they are born, curl up into cocoons when they have had enough of grovelling existence, emerge as moths from the intermediate pupa state, and then extend the area of their investigations with the aid of wings. One of the incidental features of this last stage of the insect's career is the laying of eggs, in clumps of several hundred, on the trunk or branches of the tree. Having thus done what it considers its duty by posterity, the moth is likely to perish by too much curiosity in regard to the nature of a candle blaze or street gas lamp. The forest-tree moth is a night flier, and shows a particular fondness for lights.

Both experience and reason suggest that the best way to fight the caterpillar is to remove the egg clusters from the trees before they hatch out. E. B. Southwick, entomologist of the New York City parks, devotes a large part of the winter to this work. His men go over all the trees in his bailiwick with steel brushes, and take off every bunch of eggs they can discover.

If, however, the caterpillar has a chance to hatch, he will hatch in numbers, and then he must be dealt with in a different manner. If he has not yet done much damage, he ought to be treated to poisoned spray. Dr. Southwick prefers, as the result of his long experience, a mixture in which London purple, an arsenical preparation, is the chief ingredient. He likes this form of arsenic because it mixes with the other materials more readily than does Paris green. His formula is: One pound of London purple, six of slaked lime (to prevent injurious effects to the foliage), four quarts of flour (to promote stickiness), and a hundred gallons of water. Other experts use Paris green. It is conceded, though, that one must take the caterpillars when they first begin to hatch, in order to destroy them effectually in this manner. Otherwise it will be impossible to keep pace with them.

Overworking Butter.

Recently at a farmers' club the following query was read: Mrs. A., why do you work your butter twice? "That's a very foolish question to ask, as if any one could make butter and not work it twice. I guess I know how to make good butter. I've made butter for 36 years and worked every pound of it twice. I work it twice to get all the water out." Just look at the hard work and time wasted by Mrs. A. in 36 years in spoiling the butter to get all the water out. A farmer's wife in the city a few days ago said. "The grocerymen only pay 16 cents for butter to-day, but I got 18 cents, for I make extra good butter. I take so much pains with it, I work every pound of it twice. I never have streaked butter." I told her I never worked butter much. I always use the best fine butter salt and just work it enough to thoroughly mix the salt evenly through the butter, and work it out in two-pound blocks as soon as I could get it out of the air. Water left in butter does not injure it in any way. Good butter should be about twelve per cent. water. Buttermilk does not make butter "streaked" but it has a tendency to make it rancid.

YOUR little girls like to wear tan slippers in warm weather. They are cooler and last longer than black ones. We are selling out our $1.50 and $1.25 line of these slippers at 98 cents, the dollar ones at 75 cents and the 75 cent quality at 50 cents. The sizes are somewhat broken, but very likely we can furnish the size you want if you don't wait too long. Better come in this week and look them over.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

"HAVE YOU REGISTERED?".

A Question That is Now Being Asked. Bits of News.

The fall session of Greensboro Female College will open September 12th. Already the president has assurances from a number who will attend the next session.

A number of young people enjoyed a drive to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ballinger, eight miles west of Greensboro, last night, where they spent a few hours most pleasantly.

The new catalogue of the State Normal and Industrial College is just out. It is one of the neatest catalogues ever issued in North Carolina. The next session of the college will open October 4th.

The Telegram acknowledges with thanks an invitation to attend a recital to be given in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, in Winston tonight, for the benefit of the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Twin-City Hospital Association. Miss George Whitaker, the accomplished young daughter of the editor of the Winston Sentinel, will take an important part in rendering the program.

Western Young Brides.

During the past six weeks marriage licenses have been issued to twenty-eight girls who were only 18 years old and under. The legal period for girls to marry begins at 18 years of age, but on an average of two licenses a week are issued to girls under 18, who bring to the clerk their parents' written consent before a license can be secured.

It was only a week ago that Judge Bishop granted a divorce to a wife who had been married in this city at the age of 13 years. The Judge was astonished when the witness testified to this fact and he closely questioned her as to her early marriage. This 13 limit holds the record so far for youthfulness, but since Dec. 1. two girls who were only 15, three who were but 16, seven who were only 17, and 16 who were only 18 years of age have been granted marriage licenses and have taken to themselves husbands.

For all of these, except the girls who are 18 years of age, the parents' written consent has been secured and is filed away with the stubs in the marriage license record. The twelve girls who were under age and have been married within the past six weeks have ranged between 17 and 15. The majority of girls who marry in Polk county claim to be 18, 19, 20 or 22 years of age, which seem to be the popular years in this vicinity.—Des Moines (Ia.) Capital.

Dr. A. L. Abbott recently employed Mrs. Mildred Grear, the divorced wife of Robert Grear, to act as his housekeeper at Cincinnati, O. Soon after he fell in love with her, and his sentiments were reciprocated. About three months ago the doctor removed his office to Newport, where he met Miss Irene Reynolds, a beautiful young woman. He transfered his attentions to her, although he still continued to pay atention to Mrs. Grear.

Finally Mrs. Grear learned of her rival. Instead of seeking her lover and upbraiding him Mrs. Grear went to Miss Reynolds and laid the state of affairs before her. The two women promptly agreed upon decisive measures. Together they went to the office of the doctor and confronted him. "Well, which of us do you want?" asked Mrs. Grear.

Dr. Abbott was greatly agitated, but he was not long in deciding. "I love you both," he said, "but I will choose the younger," turning to Miss Reynolds. Then he dramatically swallowed a powder, whereupon Miss Reynolds cried: "He has taken the morphine which I brought for myself if he chose Mrs. Grear instead of me."

Mrs. Grear hurriedly prepared some hot water, while Miss Reynolds sent for Dr. Higgins, the Campbell county coroner. Dr. Higgins found the patient out of danger.
